South East Dance Studios wanted to use digital signage for their foyer area to inform and be visible to all those who step over their threshold. They wanted to raise the profile of dance and highlight their community dance classes and events for all ages and abilities, rehearsal space for artists, with conference and meeting area for businesses and community groups.

South East Dance Studios is located in Hextable, Kent and looked to Repeat Signage digital signage software to raise the profile of dance and highlight their community dance classes and events for all ages and abilities.

"We also want to inform and communicate about dance opportunities within the county and the different streaming effects and features on Repeat Signage digital signage are a great way to be able to do this," revealed Luci Napleton, Communications Administrator of South East Dance Studios.

"We found that Repeat Signage digital signage software was user friendly and accessible. With the different features on digital signage we can frequently and easily update our three terms of dance classes and varying dance events both at the studios and county wide that we wish to promote. With Repeat Signage we are able to do this easily ourselves which means we can communicate the latest information and dance opportunities available to all who enter our building. We wanted a professional finish and with Repeat Signage 2013 Professional Edition, we can upload and create all our communications in-house which will be sustainable for the future. Thanks very much to Wedgwood AV for providing a professional and friendly service, one that we would recommend."

"We found that Repeat Signage digital signage software was user friendly and accessible. We will be upgrading to the Repeat Signage 2013 Professional edition." Luci Napleton.
